As expected, FIFA 22 introduces a host of new mechanics in a bid to improve the realism of the game. Eight teams (England, Brazil, Germany, Argentina, Spain, Italy, France and Portugal) return to a league-based FIFA title. Those eight teams will face 10 other teams in a single-season league format, with a progression of fixtures culminating in a knockout cup tournament. To spice up the narrative, it will be possible to pick a side of four different nationalities, each with a unique global player roster that will influence each individual's teammate attributes. trailer FIFA 20 also released in September, claiming the top spot on the charts for three months. EA Sports aims to keep this momentum going with FIFA 22. This month's game is based on the 2018-19 Premier League season and will feature a brand-new career mode, and an All-Time Teams mode. "FIFA 19 was an immensely popular game and we want to create a FIFA game that builds on that experience," Creative Assembly said. "We've listened to your feedback, and after listening to what you had to say we've made some major changes to the game. "Our engineers and designers have been working hard to create an authentic and authentic football game. We've made several improvements to the atmosphere and fidelity of the presentation and gameplay as well as refining key play styles, tactics and strategies. "We're extremely excited about what we've created and will be bringing you a game that, at its core, remains true to what made the FIFA series so special." Features Key:

- Tactics - Implement an intense, real-life fully dynamic tactical system that adapts to the tactics of your opponent to maximize the opportunity to score goals. In addition to the intense new facile X/Y animation, flashy new free kicks and headers, pitch and crowd flaring, and more, you also get game-changing new in-game chemistry system for multiple players, including new pre-match and post-match emotion analyzers that help you adapt your tactics for a match-up against just about anybody.
- Fouled - Fast pace, frenetic football comes to life as you take part in the game's most up-to-date on-the-pitch physicality.
- Subs, Boosts and Player Strength - See more of what's going on around you as you take control of your team with the new global tactical indicator (G.I.T.I), and create an aesthetic makeover for your players with new player stat boosts. Mix and match as you see fit, then search for the perfect balance of tactics and individual flair.
- Referee - Immersive refereeing action from I-A.I., which gives the referees a new spotlight to shine, a new line of communication that allows you to interact more with your player up-close and personal, and more reactive physics effects.
- Gamification - Unique Gamification features include a dedicated Gamification section, an In-Play Leaderboard which documents your kills, deaths and assists, a Gamification interface that gives you visual, audio and contextual warnings of upcoming Gamification markers; and Gamification challenges that allow you to compete against your friends on courses you've created. For the first time in FIFA, you can level up your football by playing FIFA games with other people. And by completing Gamification challenges you'll learn new skills.
- Intensive Training - Work on your skills with the all-new Personal Trainer each week, and see your improvement reflected in the results of your training sessions on the playing field. The best of your simulation work will reward you with the new Hyperelevation device to help take your aerial duels to the next level. All-new Ultimate Team. Get into the Football atmosphere with this dynamic new feature, which enables you to build your very own squad of players and start crafting your dream team right from the first minute of the game. CONTROLS In FIFA® 22, everything is smarter. Controls are more responsive, with new ball physics and skill moves, and every player now moves with a smoother upper body and more powerful physical reactions – both on the ball and in the air. Pitch-Specific Tweaks – Goalkeepers need to do more in the box, pressing both attack and defend in front of the box. Changes to Foul System – FIFA 22 introduces a new whistling system which affects free kicks. Free kicks are now deflected differently. It's the first time Free kicks have been played around the box and they are now part of the game and it's all about the Free kicks. Guardian Angels – The defensive players in your team now have Guardian Angels, protecting them from simple fouls such as tackles. Enhanced Immersion – The ball will react more realistically to the players and the new pitch surface, enhancing the rich and deep sensation of being on the pitch. The goalmouth bulges and the ball's movement and physics have also been improved. Pitch-Specific Changes – The pitch surface in FIFA 22 has been changed to an all-new and improved surface. It's faster, tighter and has more rebound. One Man Fall Off – In the new tackle system, defenders no longer physically fall over when a player flicks the ball past them, but instead the defender slides a meter and then stops defending. This adjusts the amount of time the defender spends defending for each “fall off”, and makes skill moves more effective. BOOSTS The New Defender – A new, more athletic defender is ready to lead the defense. Based on player requests, the Defender is more agile, fends off attackers and can even dribble his way out of the back. New Layered Goalkeeper System – Now defenders and goalkeepers have a choice of playing styles, with a simple to use layered goalkeeper system that allows you to choose exactly how far you want your goalkeeper to come forward. Unified Tactical Disconnect – Tactics, team play and individual players have been unified into one system
